Leather products such as a leather sofa is an investment which, when treated with a little tender loving care, will give years of service and ultimately prove to be an exceptional value. Good quality leathers have been known to last for generations. An NOW they can last longer and shine more with GuardAll^{17x}

Leather is unique because it is stretchable, does not tear, breathable, permeable to air and moisture, but at the same time stores moisture. With care, you can retain these qualities for a long period of time.

GuardAll^{17x} protects the leather by removing by restoring and conditioning the natural oils that protect the leather. It also prevents the leather's pores from clogging which allows the leather to breath and prevents the leather from drying out and cracking. Because unprotected leather is susceptible to spotting from water and other liquids, a newly purchased leather item should be treated immediately with GuardAll^{17x} to help prevent permanent stains from occurring. It is equally wise to apply GuardAll^{17x} leather cream several times throughout the year to maintain its luster and protection. Whether you've just purchased a leather sofa, leather briefcase, leather coat, or other fine leather product, make sure to protect that investment with GuardAll^{17x}
